

Check Receipt

When you provide a check as payment to the merchant, you authorize CrossCheck, Inc. (“we”, “us”, “our”) to use information from your check to make a one-time electronic fund transfer from your account or to process the payment as a check transaction. In certain circumstances when payment is processed as a check transaction, a paper reproduction (substitute check) may be created and forwarded to the bank for deposit. Funds may be withdrawn as soon as the same day you make payment. Although your bank will establish its own policies as to whether your original check will be returned to you, in some cases you will not receive it back from your financial institution.

In the event the check is returned unpaid for any reason, you authorize us or our agents to re-present the check one or more times by such methods, and you authorize collection of a service fee in an amount as permitted by state law as shown on your check receipt for each check to the same payee, through an electronic fund transfer from your account.

You consent to us, our assignees, debt collectors, agents and affiliates, contacting you by verbal, written, and/or electronic means, and at any telephone number associated with you including wireless numbers, using prerecorded or artificial voice messages, automatic telephone dialing systems and text messaging. Message and data rates may apply to text messages. You agree consent is not revoked if your number is ported to a wireless or residential line, or vice versa. You expressly consent to contact at any email address provided by you.

Notice For California Residents. Your privacy is important to us; we will not sell or provide your information to unrelated parties. Pursuant to the California Consumer Privacy Act, CrossCheck collects the following categories of personal information: Personal identifiers such as name, address, email address, SSN, state issued identification numbers; bank account, financial or personal history information; information described in California Customer Records Act; characteristics of protected classifications; geolocation data; Internet or website activity; recordings; professional or employment-related information; and inferences drawn from all of the above. These categories of personal information are used for business purposes regulated by the Fair Credit Reporting Act, for regulatory compliance, as a Service Provider in connection with payment or financial transactions, for collection, and to comply with contractual or legal requirements under state and federal laws. We do not sell your personal information. Our Privacy Policy and information on how a consumer with a disability may access this notice in an alternate format may be found at www.cross-check.com/privacy-policy or by calling 800-843-0760.
